

RESOURCES: Using Research for Evidence-Informed Career Development Practice

Thank you for your interest in the resources for the free webinar series – Using Research for Evidence-Informed Career Development Practice with Dr. Loleen Berdahl on Wednesday, May 18, 25 & June 1, 2022.

Resources:

Webinar #1: Research 101 for Career Practitioners: Recording | Slides

Webinar #2: Using Existing Research in Your Career Development Practice: Recording | Slides

Webinar #3: Conducting Research in Your Career Development Practice: Recording | Slides

Resources mentioned during the webinar:

- Canada's Journal of Career Development: <https://bit.ly/3t39fUs>
- Website to confirm legitimacy of a peer reviewed research: <https://beallslist.net/>
- List of academic journals that highlight career development research: <https://bit.ly/3sYXvCx>
- LMIC Data Hub: <https://lmic-cimt.ca/projects/data-hub/>
- Canadian Opinion Research archive: <https://www.queensu.ca/cora/>
- Cannexus23: share your research with peers! Call for presenters deadline is June 17: <https://bit.ly/3ODFNO8>

Additional CERIC resources:

- CareerWise: Research literacy is essential for evidence-based careers work: <https://bit.ly/3x5h1OM>
- CJCD - 20th anniversary issue of Canada's first peer-reviewed journal of career development: <https://bit.ly/39zNtRd>
- Literature searches: explore over 50 Career Development bibliographies: <https://bit.ly/38TggAA>
- CERIC project funding: <https://bit.ly/3ayJvJi>
- Canadian Career Development Researcher Database – updated database coming soon! <https://ceric.ca/researchers>

Stay up-to-date with CERIC! Subscribe to be updated on the release of our researcher database, reminders for the Cannexus23 conference, as well as notifications on our upcoming learning opportunities: <https://bit.ly/CERICupdates>

Thank you,
The CERIC Team