

Advancing Career Development in Canada Promouvoir le développement de carrière au Canada

Strategic Plan

OVERVIEW 2020 - 2025

Connecting Goals, Objectives and Actions to Vision, Mission and

Strategy A: Promoting career development as a priority for the public good

CERIC is committed to working with stakeholders across the career development ecosystem to advance efforts that show the social and economic value, and public benefit of career development. This involves collaborating with employers, government policymakers and educators to advocate for career literacy for Canadians.

Strategy B: Building career development knowledge, mindsets and competencies

CERIC's work is deeply rooted in career development research, learning and acting as a hub for community. Through ongoing professional development, we continue to focus on growing expertise and skills among career practitioners as well as K-12 educators. Deepening career mindsets and engaging with networks that can influence this are emergent areas for us.

Our Values

Inclusivity

A respectful, inclusive and equitable environment that invites all stakeholders, especially the historically disadvantaged, to contribute to meaningful discussions and decision-making.

Accessibility

Allowing for the fullest access to our research, learning and engagement opportunities in order to support the largest number of career professionals and have the broadest impact.

Collaboration

Non-partisan, pan-Canadian and multi-sectoral: within partnerships, projects, and advocacy, encourages participation from multiple actors for a greater benefit.

Diversity

Diverse people, skillsets, schools of thought and backgrounds that offer a spectrum of perspectives and know-how are intentionally sought and represented.

Integrity

Our processes and procedures are available and understood by our stakeholders; demonstrating transparency, openness, communication and accountability in all of our actions.

Aspiration

Committed to new and imaginative ways and means to enhance the value and body of knowledge within career development; curious and takes smart risks to inspire, challenge and achieve results.

		Strategy A
Promoting career development as a priority for the public good
	WHO	WHAT
AUDIENCES	 A. SMEs with 20 - 500 employees B. Government (as policy arm and as largest employer) C. Educators (Post- Secondary: University, College; High School Principals) for all learners 	 Goals Translate (articulate) the value of career literacy Amplify/multiply the value of a career mindset to serve the public good Mobilize sector leaders to support career development policy advocacy Enable stakeholders in the broader career development ecosystem to contribute to prioritizing career development as a public good
	 Translate/explain resea Communicate research Mobilizing coalitions of Identify/determine white 	activities that reinforces the value of career development as a public good rch that amplifies/multiplies the value of a career mindset to serve the public good and activities that reinforces the value of career development as a public good advocates to inform government policy directions ch sector leaders within the audiences are most relevant and impacted by a career and employment by we can engage with them most effectively

Connecting Goals, Objectives and Actions to Vision, Mission and

	Building career developmen	Strategy B t knowledge, mindsets and competencies
	WHO	WHAT
AUDIENCES	 A. Career Educators / Career and Employment Practitioners B. Educators (K-12 Intermediate, Secondary, Primary) C. Network Managers and Influencers (HR, Workforce Development, Unions, Corporate Learning and Development, Career Development Organizations, Ministries, School Boards) 	 Goals Expand the body of knowledge that supports the lifelong learning and professional development of career professionals Deepen the value of a career mindset within clients and constituents Elevate, expand and refine career mastery to build sector capabilities and leadership Foster interdisciplinary skills, learning and competencies

CERIC Programs, Projects and Publications

Current initiatives include:

CERIC provides funding and other support to individuals and organizations who apply to develop innovative career development resources. CERIC's four priority funding areas (revised 2021) are: career practitioning with social and economic impact; impact of career services on policy and programs; new emerging career development theories and career service models; and shifting career mindsets and the role of career development professionals in evolving times. CERIC also directs funds to internally generated projects, including RFPs, publications and surveys. CERIC also produces other research-related resources (e.g. literature searches), offers learning and community-building events (webinars, roadshows) and leads advocacy and profile initiatives (media outreach, awards, conference participation).

CANNEXUS

Canada's bilingual Career Development Conference, promoting the exchange of information and innovative approaches in career counselling, and career and workforce development.

CANADIAN JOURNAL OF | REVUE CANADIENNE DE CAREER DEVELOPMENT | DÉVELOPPEMENT DE CARRIÈRE

Peer-reviewed publication of multi-sectoral, career-related academic research & best practices from Canada and around the world.

CAREERWISE | ORIENTACTION

Helps those working in career development across Canada stay up to date on the top news and views. Popular weekly newsletters curate the best of the sites.

